Unfortunately maintenance only has a couple available. That being said we have connections to some of the contractors that we work with that might be able to assist.

Let me know if you need anything and we can get you in contact with them.

Hi Shawna,

We are looking at some recent Twitter activity regarding protests, truck convoys and the possibility of protesters attempting to block the Ambassador bridge in the coming days. I have been asked to look into how long it would take if we needed Barricades, Jersey barriers on short notice to assist us in managing whatever we may be faced with in regards to the protests. Are you able to answer this for me?
Sorry for the weekend email.

Thanks,
Jen
